

Ledia Rexho

E l.rexho@unlaw.it

P +39 06 474831

Via Venti Settembre, 1 - 00187 Rome

Expertise:

M&A - Private Equity

Banking and Finance

Corporate

Contract Law

Litigation and Arbitration

Bankruptcy and Restructuring

Qualifications:

2008

Admitted to the Bar in Italy.

Training:

2010

PhD in Civil Law - Thesis in "Rules of conduct and rules of activity of the financial intermediaries" - University of Sannio, Benevento.

2005

J.D., cum laude - University of Lecce.

Publications:

Oggetto della comunione legale e acquisto per accessione, in Le Corti Pugliesi, n. 4/2007 (publication in Italian language).

Le funzioni amministrative nel nuovo art. 118 cost., in P. Perlingieri (a cura di), Temi e problemi di diritto regionale. Un'esperienza didattica, Napoli, 2008 (publication in Italian Language).

Consegna anticipata del bene nel preliminare di vendita e possesso ad usucapionem, in Il Foro napoletano, n. 1/2013 (publication in Italian Language).

La violazione delle distanze legali tra costruzioni ex art. 873 c.c. e regolamenti locali ivi richiamati integra un danno in re ipsa?, in Il Foro napoletano, n. 2/2013, (publication in Italian Language).

Languages:

Italian, Albanian, English, Spanish

Academic Activities:

2011-2013

Research Fellow of Civil Law - University of Sannio, Benevento. Title of the research project: "The interpretation in conformity with the Italian Constitution of contractual and legal provisions" (in Italian).

2006-2014

Research Fellow of Civil Law - University of Sannio, Benevento - Course of Civil Law - Prof. Lisella. Ledia joined the Rome office of Ughi e Nunziante as an associate in 2013. Her areas of expertise include contract law, banking & finance, and corporate law, providing full judicial and extrajudicial assistance.

Ledia graduated cum laude at the University of Lecce in 2005. She earned a PhD in Civil Law with focus on financial intermediation at the University of Benevento, where she worked as a research fellow on contract law until 2013.

Ledia is a member of the editorial board of Il Foro Napoletano and is the author of several articles on contract law.

She has been admitted to the bar of Rome.

Ledia speaks Italian, English, Spanish and Albanian.